Going quietly about its business on a 960sqm (approx) block is a double brick 4-bedroom home with an intriguing past and the brightest future in those prized Walkerville school zones.

What was originally two C1925 maisonettes would later become one and welcome multiple living zones - with room left over to extend even further and install a pool.

Whilst its polished pine floors, colonial windows and French doors, high ceilings and large rooms give warm winks to its origins, it's the additions that headline a home adored by the one family since 1987.

With its 900mm stainless steel appliances, timber benchtops, breakfast bar and walk-in pantry, the kitchen is
